

The right to vote is one of the fundamental pillars of our nation's democracy. Use the resources on this section of my website to find out how you can register, where to go to vote, and the dates of upcoming elections.

Everyone who is eligible should exercise their right to vote, and I'm hopeful that these resources will help you make sure your voice is heard.

The State of Texas's Elections Division

As a function of the Secretary of State's office in Texas, the Elections Division is responsible for registering voters, issuing absentee ballots, and election returns.

Bexar County Elections Department

The County Elections Department's website can help you identify your polling location for upcoming elections. Similar to the State's website, the County can also help get you registered to vote.

The Office of the City Clerk - Elections Division

The City Clerk's website should be used to access information on municipal elections and early voting locations.

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "Angie". The signature is fluid and cursive, with a large initial 'A' and a trailing 'ie'.
